FAQ'S- Frequently Asked Questions

How do I volunteer with a Large Group or have a “Partnership” for a Special Olympics Iowa event?

We welcome and encourage large groups to sign up together to volunteer at our events. Large groups may include people from a family, sports teams, college/high school/middle school students, school groups/organizations/classes/clubs, religious groups/youth groups, corporate businesses/offices/departments, Special Olympics Iowa sponsors, or other related groups that want to volunteer together. We typically consider groups of 10 or more a large group. Members of a large group will hold a Day of Event Sport Competition Volunteer position.

We do our best to accommodate large groups and take specific request into consideration as much as possible. When making volunteer assignments for bigger State Competitions and multiple venue/multiple sport events, we try to keep as many group members together as possible.

Assignments are often made on a first come first serve basis or based on a group's past volunteer assignment history. Age is taken into consideration when making large group assignments. For school aged children please have the appropriate number of chaperones for your group.

How to sign up a large group .....

See more information on the “Register to Volunteer” section of our volunteer page

FAQ'S- Frequently Asked Questions

Is there a minimum age requirement for volunteers? Can families volunteer together?

We typically state children ages 10 and up are able to volunteer at SOIA events depending on the event or situation. If your child is younger than 10, please contact our state office or the designated person for a particular event. We ask that children have a parent/guardian, or designated chaperone. Please indicate to the designated SOIA contact for the event/staff member that your child will be volunteering so we can put them in an age appropriate volunteer position and keep them with their designated chaperone. We welcome families to volunteer together.

Can school aged children volunteer as a group?

If you are bringing school aged children as a large group to volunteer at a SOIA event (such as a middle school, high school, school club, youth group, etc.) we ask that you bring that appropriate number of chaperones that you see fit for your group.

Is there volunteer jobs/positions at SOIA events that are fitting for a person who may not as mobile or may not be able to be as physically active?

For most events we do have volunteer jobs that don't require high physical activity, long periods of standing, or heavy lifting. Please contact the designated event director to make a specific request so we can find a volunteer position that best suits you.

Can I use SOIA volunteer hours towards a high school or college service requirement?

Yes, we have several school aged students volunteer at SOIA events. Just contact our state office or an event leader on site if you need someone to verify that the student was at the event volunteering.

Can I use SOIA volunteer hours towards work volunteer paid time off?

Yes, we have several individuals and groups come with their work places and/or use volunteer paid time off. Just contact our state office or an event leader on site if you need someone to verify that the employee was at the event volunteering.

Can my work place (business/company), organization, school, or other type of larger group volunteer for an event together?

Yes, we do work with large groups volunteering together for events. Your group can sign up to volunteer together. If your business/company, organization, school, or other large group would like to join a volunteer partnership for an event by providing volunteers for a specific event, contact us.

What is the best event to bring a large group, such as a school or company to?

Summer Games located in Ames, IA takes place annually in May and there are several volunteers needed at this event. It is our largest and most well-known Special Olympics Iowa event.
